Don Sellers, Sr. didn't have a lot to say at the luncheon in his honor last Thursday. As a matter of fact, he told those who were there to honor him that he was told he didn't have to give a speech, "and I'm not," he said.

But, those gathered had a lot to say about the man who has devoted 22 years to the Florida Lettuce Mosaic Committee and 23 years working in the lettuce division of South Bay Growers.

They say he's one of the most humble and devoutly Christian men they've met, that he has devoted his life to helping his fellow man, and that he has been a mentor and consultant to other growers.

Don has been an innovator in the industry and in cooperation with IFAS, has developed new varieties of lettuce," Pill Petersen, with the Florida Lettuce Mosaic Committee.

Pahokee residents showed up at the polls May 3, 1994 to vote for their choices of those who will represent them at least two more years, and according to the tabulations, Incumbent Mayor Ramon Horta and Commissioner Pete Moore are the people's choices.

Mayor Horta, 33, and manager of his family's soda distribution business, defeated Alvin Davis, 50, 477 to 320. According to the mayor, he thought the voting would be much closer than what it was.

Mr. Davis is a building contractor and a longtime resident of Pahokee.

Commissioner Moore, 70, was elected to his second term in office. He defeated challenger Glenn Carrick, 66, 560 votes to 204.

Comm. Moore is a longtime resident of Pahokee and a fishing guide. He was elected to the commission in 1992. According to Comm. Moore, he wants to continue to see growth in Pahokee. He said, "The marina is going great and we have the gym here that everyone can use."

A day of last minute campaigning in the city saw people holding signs and waving at passers by. Mayor Horta said he had been on the corner of Bacon Point Rd. since 6 a.m. Tuesday morning. Mr. Davis said he had been on the corner across from the chamber of commerce since 4 a.m.

Statistics show voter turnout was somewhat higher than normal. Officials said out of the 1,750 voters in Pahokee, 823 participated.

Mayor Horta is married and has two daughters.

Commissioner Moore is married and has grown children.

Commissioner Keith Babb was also up for re-election but he was unopposed.

Three cities combined applying for grant monies

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

If the Glades can show that there is a need for growth and improvement within the three cities (Pahokee, Belle Glade and South Bay), it can be awarded $40 million over a 10-year period.

The new program which was announced by President Bill Clinton Jan. 18, 1994 will choose three empowerment zones by the end of September.

The three cities have worked cooperatively in an effort that the Glades-area will be considered for the monies.

Ed Lowery, community director for the City of Belle Glade, will head the efforts of the three cities. He will be responsible for gathering ideas, information and data that will be used to complete the grant application. According to Mr. Lowery, most of the people who have expressed a need for growth in the three cities are concerned about jobs. "Most people in the Glades are concerned about the creation of new and additional jobs in the area," said Mr. Lowery. He said they are concerned with having year-round jobs.

Mr. Lowery said if the Glades is awarded the dollars there are numerous things that can be done to increase tourism and growth in the area.

He also said if the Glades is not accepted as an empowerment zone, it could possibly be accepted as an enterprise community. Thirty enterprise communities will be designated and each community can receive $3 million over a 10-year period.

The monies to be awarded in the grants will come from Housing and Urban Development and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Lowery said his initial first draft application is due May 10, 1994. He said his completed application is due to the State of Florida by June 13. After a review by the state applications are due to the federal government by the end of July.

Stockbroker takes daughter to work for the day

Daughter learns about the bull and the bear

By Brenda Bunting

Editor

Ten-year-old Peggy Altman has been excited for weeks about going to work with her stockbroker dad on the second annual Take Our Daughters to Work day.

She hadn't been on the job at Smith, Barney, Shearson long last Thursday when she realized her dad handled that. She's more interested in being a veterinarian when she grows up.

"It's fun here," she says, "but I like animals and I want to help them." She said she has a dog, Toby, and a horse.

Peggy spent the day organizing files and papers and helping her dad and secretary

Cheryl Burns around the office. Nationwide, the event drew thousands of girls to take the day off from school and go to work with a parent. It is designed to boost girls' self-esteem and expand their career horizons.

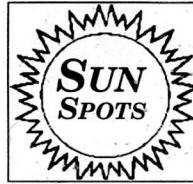

Peggy cleared it with her teacher at Glades Day several weeks ago. The teacher thought it was such a good idea that she brought her daughter to school with her last Thursday.

"Peggy has taken a great deal of supervision," kidded her father. "This afternoon I think I'll have her review portfolios and make suggestions."

Speaking seriously, Mr. Altman said he thought the concept of taking your daughter to work was very worthwhile.

"It's a contagious idea. Peggy for a month was very excited about this. It lets them know there are a lot of careers they can pursue," he said.

"I'd probably like to do it again next year if he'd let me," said Peggy. "I haven't been bored."

Antoine Russell inducted into Palm Beach County Sports Hall of Fame

By Gary Hainley

Free-lance journalist

Local sports legend Antoine Russell of Belle Glade has received yet another honor for his coaching accomplishments. Mr. Russell, now principal at the School of CHOICE in Pahokee, was recently inducted into the Palm Beach County Sports Hall of Fame. He has been a long time member of the Florida Sports Hall of Fame. Mr. Russell was six times named Suncoast Conference Coach of the Year.

In 1992 Coach Russell was elected to the national Football Foundation Hall of Fame. He coached football teams that made it to the state championship games on three occasions. In his 13 seasons as the head track coach of Pahokee Junior-Senior High School, his teams were crowned state champions seven times. He also did his football coaching at Pahokee Junior-Senior High School.

"Coach", as he is known locally, has guided half a dozen players into the ranks of the national Football league.

Andre Waters and Ricky Jackson are just two of the current and most notable Disciples of Mr. Russell to achieve fame and fortune in the ranks of the NFL. Jackson has achieved All Pro status.

Coach Russell received the honor at a recent ceremony at the Marriott Hotel in Palm Beach Gardens before nearly 100 cheering supporters, including the previously mentioned New Orleans Saints All Pro Linebacker, Ricky Jackson, who flew in especially for the occasion.

Coach Russell is now the principal at the School of CHOICE in Pahokee where under his direction, the traditional and innovative dropout prevention programs have become nationally known.

He has been a guest speaker at national conferences on "at-risk youth" on more than one occasion.

Although the former coach won't admit it, close friends say that his accomplishments on and off the field have led him to share ideas with such personalities as Burt Reynolds and the late President John F. Kennedy.

Coach Russell has devoted nearly 35 years to helping the youth of Western Palm Beach County and is still going strong.

Fired Ritta Camp employee offered reinstatement with back pay and benefits.

By Irene Chandler

and Brenda Bunting

A former Ritta Camp employee has been offered job reinstatement by U.S. Sugar Corporation after being terminated March 14.

Robert Moore was offered full back pay and benefits by U.S. Sugar's Director of Agricultural Operations Walter C. Parker, Jr. and "sincere apologies to Mr. Moore and his family for any disruption, inconvenience or hardship the lay-off may have caused."

Mr. Moore was let go by his boss, Richard Knowles, farm manager for Ritta, after Mr. Moore complained to the Glades Branch of the NAACP about Mr. Knowles and about a Jamaican offshore worker who allegedly made advances to Mr. Moore's 8-year-old daughter.

Mr. Moore, who had worked for U.S. Sugar for almost 10 years, believes he was terminated for speaking up against the child molestation incident.

U.S. Sugar did an internal investigation and concluded that "the circumstances did not support the lay-off decision made."

The letter to Mr. Moore, from Robert E. Muraro, general counsel for U.S. Sugar, also noted that Richard Knowles was terminated.

Mr. Moore said he would have to think about whether or not he would go back to work for U.S. Sugar.

Mr. Muraro said he believes the firing of Mr. Knowles and reinstating Mr. Moore, "corrected the problems related to this act (lay off)." "I believe that we tried to make things right," he said.

As to the report of a Jamaican laborer who is accused of fondling Mr. Moore's daughter at Ritta, Mr. Muraro replied that "the company was not responsible for what an employee may have done on his off time."

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Renovations have begun on the Prince Theatre on East Main Street in Pahokee.

According to Pahokee City Manager Ken Schenck, the building has been treated for termites, piping improvements and electrical work has started.

The city received a $17,700 grant from the Department of State, Division of Historical Resources to make renovations to the Theatre. The city is matching the donation with in-kind services and some financial assistance.

"We hope to have it open in the fall," said Mr. Schenck.

The theatre was built in 1939 and the first show was November 3, 1940 starring Henry Fonda in "The Return of Frank James."

Competitors losing it in Glades General's weight loss competition

Four people are missing in Belle Glade.

Well, not exactly.

Those die-hard dieters who are participating in Glades General Hospital's Weight Loss Competition are minus quite a few pounds half-way through the six week program.

Sue Maggio, food service director/dietitian, for Glades General said 34 teams of three people each have lost a total of 630 pounds after just three weeks on the program.

The goal is for the 54 teams to lose 750 pounds. Mrs. Maggio said 84% of the participants have met their goals.

A grocery store tour two weeks ago brought out 25 of the participants. They learned which foods were low in calories as well as fat and how to read the new food labels.

Last Saturday, a food show showed up for the refresher class in the cafeteria. A food demonstration on May 11 will highlight low calorie recipes preparation, modifying recipes to reduce fat," said Mrs. Maggio, who added that the program has been extended.

Voter control over taxes needed

headquartered in New Smyrna Beach, is out to get the 600,000 signatures needed to put each of its four constitutional amendment proposals on the November ballot.

The proposed amendments are designed to protect citizens against excessive and unfair taxes, and from government actions that destroy property values, according to Mr. Biddleph. "Each year Tax Freedom Day comes later and later. This year it's two days later."

"This year again," he noted. "The reason," he said, "is that here in Florida government spending has been increased faster than population growth, personal income growth and inflation could reasonably be expected."

The constitutional amendment petitions are available at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, South Bay Growers or from any Everglades Women involved in Farm Economics member.

The late arrival of Tax Freedom Day, the day that the average Floridian would have paid off all his or her federal, state and local tax obligations, if they spent money on nothing else, will be mourned by volunteers for the Tax Cap Committee, a grass roots organization that believes voter control over taxes is needed to make Florida a better place to live and do business.

They'll be accelerating their drive to collect signatures on constitutional amendment petitions that they say will return control of taxes to the people who must pay them, according to David Biddleph, chairman of the Tax Cap Committee.

This year, the average Floridian will have worked 121 days just to pay taxes," he said.

Congratulations, but...

I am contacting the "Speak Out" section of The Sun to congratulate the graduates of the Class of 1994 Leadership Glades and thank them for taking time out from their busy schedules to become community leaders.

The training is wonderful but equally important is living in the area, especially if you are an educator helping to mold the lives of children. Granted there may be extenuating circumstances in a few cases.

As a teacher in the Glades in the 60's and later in the 80's and 90's, I know the importance of living in the area and being a part of its heart and soul. That is when community leadership is most effective.

Unfortunately the Palm Beach County School Board does not encourage its educators to live here. New teachers are told from the very beginning, "you do not have to live in the Glades," when they should be told the advantages of living on the shores of the second largest freshwater lake in the U.S. and knowing the finest people on earth.

The Palm Beach County Health Department makes the same unsolicited comment to its applicants -- "you do not have to live in the Glades." There was a time when bank presidents were not considered for such a position if they did not live in their local communities.

As I read the list of Leadership Glades graduates, I was sad to see the names of an educator, a health care worker, and a bank president (and possibly more) who do not live in our area. But maybe we are just as much at fault as the school board, health department, and the bank's board of directors for not making our assets known.

Those early professionals helped make the communities around the lake. Let's make every effort to encourage our "leaders" to live here in this very special place.

Where's the handicapped parking?
"For as long as I can remember the City of Belle Glade has been offering their Black Gold Jubilee and not yet have I ever noticed the handicapped parking for handicapped."

The handicapped must-park in the field with the rest of the cars. Where they're located to park at, when they get out of their vehicles they've got to push their chairs, if they're strong enough to push the chairs, through the grass and the mud where there's often little pot holes where the wheels of a wheelchair hit and comes close to tipping over.

I would like to see the City of Belle Glade come into the 1990's perhaps next year and have handicapped parking for handicapped.

There is such a place where handicapped people could park on an asphalt driveway without ever having to get in the grass or the mud with their chairs where they wouldn't be getting mud all over their dresses or pants. This place is currently where the Belle Glade Police Department uses to park their cars during the Black Gold.

However, if the handicapped parking was to be in this location, the police department of Belle Glade would probably have to find another place to park their cars. Possibly in the grass or field where the handicapped have been parking for all the years that I have been living in the Glades.

I am aware that they may get their feet and shoes muddy as they walk through the grass, but still, I do think that if they're strong enough and tough enough, they could handle this, and give the handicapped people a better place to park that would be more suitable."

Michael R. Miller, director of public safety/chief of police, Belle Glade Police Department, responds:

"I apologize to anyone who was inconvenienced during what was otherwise a great Black Gold weekend. I am especially concerned that anyone who is physically challenged developed a perception that no specific provisions were made to meet their needs at Black Gold."

That perception was wrong. I have been associated with Black Gold since its inception and this year, as has been the case every year, provisions have been made for those individuals with special needs.

Individuals who are physically challenged and who made their needs known by displaying a handicapped sticker or any other form of communication were parked in a special location (the closest possible location to the event).

In addition, they were given a personal escort by a police officer who gave them a ride in a golf cart and/or carried their equipment. I personally witnessed many of our citizens receiving this courteous service.

It is the policy of the Belle Glade Police Department to provide the maximum service to our citizens throughout the years as well as at special events. This service is only limited by our limited resources.

In reference to this particular caller, I again apologize for any inconvenience he or she may have experienced, however if he or she is strong enough and tough enough they can communicate with me directly and I will see that they never have this problem again.

Thank you,
Michael R. Miller
Director of Public Safety/Chief of Police.

By Neil Whipkey
Administrator, Glades General Hospital,
Belle Glade

An open letter to the community:

Hi, I am Neil Whipkey from Glades General Hospital and believe it or not it has been a year since we resumed O.B. services. That's right - we began services on May 3, 1993. During the past year over 400 hundred women made Glades General Hospital their choice. To all of you - THANKS.

There are many others who also deserve our thanks. A very special thanks to the employees who voluntarily gave up their fiscal year 92/93 raises to help finance the project. Thanks to the Board of Trustees for their conviction and courage to see the project through to completion. Despite some distractions and adversity along the way.

Thanks to our O.B. physicians; Arrogante, Barhoush, Hatton and Tum. Thanks also to Dr. John Pauly for his help during the critical start up period.

Thanks to Drs. Martha Valiant and Kimberly Stein at HRS/PHU in Hendry- Glades counties and Palm Beach County respectively. Their support has been most gratifying.

Most importantly, thanks to you the community. Over five years ago you indicated, in a community survey, that the resumption of O.B. services was your number one priority. We heard you and we acted.

Your response and support is the most satisfying of all.

As we enter our second year, I want to thank the more than 700 hundred mothers who I anticipate will make Glades General Hospital their choice for O.B. services in the next 12 months.

Finally to those of you who may be considering leaving the Glades to get your O.B. services STOP. Now you have a choice right here in the Glades. Join the increasing numbers of women who are making their choice Glades General Hospital.

Happy first anniversary to our O.B. unit. Many thanks to all of you who made it possible.

Sincerely,
Neil Whipkey
Administrator

Local funeral director receives certification by Academy

James A. "Jim" Bennett, president of James A. Bennett Funeral Home, Inc., of Pahokee, has been re-certified as a Certified Funeral Service Practitioner by the Academy of Professional Funeral Service Practice.

Mr. Bennett has been a member of the academy since 1982 and received certification in 1985 after completing 18.0 Continuing Education Units. He was the seventh funeral director in the state of Florida to be certified and is the only funeral director in Palm Beach County to be certified.

The Academy of Professional Funeral Service Practice was founded in 1976 to provide recognition to licensed funeral service practitioners for their commitment to maintaining and improving themselves and their profession through life-long learning (continuing education). The purpose of continuing education in funeral service was described in the 1976 founding documents of the academy as "the improvement of services rendered and the enrichment of funeral service careers" for members.

The academy is a voluntary certification organization through which the designation of Certified Funeral Service Practitioner (CFSP) may be earned and, thereafter, used by the recipient as public acknowledgement of his commitment to life-long learning for personal development, professional improvement, and improved service to the community.

The academy believes that personal as well as professional development, together, combine to help insure a better funeral service professional. Hence, certification credits are allowed for involvement in both types of programs (i.e., those directly related to funeral service as well as those directly related to improving the professional as an individual).

Once 180 hours of activities have been achieved, the member is eligible for certification, and the designation of Certified Funeral Service Practitioner is awarded.

Once certified, the CFSP members must remain active by attending at least 20 hours of events each year in order to maintain certification.

The subdistrict, one of four regional subdistricts of the Palm Beach County Health Care Special Taxing District, a public body which is the successor to the former local health care special taxing district, has health care planning and budgeting authority in the northwestern county area including Pahokee, Canal Point and the surrounding unincorporated areas.

Health care facilities within the jurisdiction of the public board of governors includes Everglades Regional Medical Center and the county public health department's C.L. Brumback Center at the county complex north of Belle Glade.

GFC accepting gator-hunting applications

Persons interested in hunting alligators soon will have a chance to apply for a permit. Applications for Florida's annual alligator harvest are available from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's regional offices.

To be eligible for the hunt, persons must be at least 18 years old and have not been convicted of a violation of the agency's laws related to taking alligators during the past five years or laws relating to taking endangered crocodiles during the past 10 years.

This year's alligator hunt, which will take place at 32 locations around the state, will be divided into two phases. The first phase is scheduled to take place Sept. 1-15. The second phase will be Sept. 16-30.

Completed applications are due June 1 at the agency's Gainesville office.

"Participants will be randomly selected by a computerized drawing," said Nick Wiley, a biologist with the commission's alligator management section. "The drawing also will determine which harvest area and phase of the season trappers will be allowed to hunt."

Those selected to receive permits will be required to attend a three-hour training class and must purchase a $250 resident trapping license ($1,000 for non-residents) by July 15 or the commission will assign their permit to someone else.

The talk in Canal Point is the upcoming revival at the Canal Point United Methodist Church. The known and beloved man of God, Evangelist Enoch Finklea will bring the message.

Rev. Finklea of South Carolina will preach his first message on Sunday morning, May 15, at 11 a.m. and nightly, Sunday through Friday, at 7 p.m.

Rev. Finklea is no stranger to the residents of the Glades. Even though his last visit was 10 years ago, remembrances of him are still so fresh that it seems as though he just recently went there.

The nationally-known musician, singer and composer Eddie Piper will be singing for these special services.

Please mark your calendar and plan to attend. There will be a nursery provided for the children.

Christian Day School
Elementary
News

Spring is certainly in the air at CDS as elementary students are constantly learning and growing in various ways. Field trips, participation in extracurricular activities, and seeing new life are all ways in which our students are experiencing growth.

Classes of kindergarten through fourth, kindergarten through fifth and first grade enjoyed a day of adventure as they traveled to Lion Country Safari on a field trip April 15. Once there the children not only enjoyed seeing the animals and riding the rides, but explored for different kinds of leaves.

"Mr. A." was a special treat to kindergarten through fourth and kindergarten through fifth Monday, April 18, at the public library. The children enjoyed the songs he sang and the stories he told.

Kindergarten through fourth grade saw a baby cockatoo last week. The students enjoyed seeing it as soon as it hatched. They are anxiously awaiting the arrival of 21 chicken eggs and are participating in the hatching with excitement.

Several CDS elementary students have recently received awards for accomplishments outside of school-work. We are very proud of these students and would like to congratulate them. Congratulations to:

Brian Lewis for receiving $100 from a drawing in Cub Scouts;

Andrew Wright for winning second place in the Tiger Cub division of the Cub Scout Pinewood Derby Race;

Lea Gay for winning third place in the Tiger Cub division of the Cub Scout Pinewood Derby Race;

Keren Rodriguez for winning Most Beautiful and first runner-up in the Parade of Stars Pageant in Wellington;

Keren Rodriguez for winning first runner-up in Little Miss Black Gold;

Caitlyn Rodriguez for winning first runner-up in Tiny Miss Black Gold; and,

La Tariel Dennard for winning first runner-up in Miss Blue Revue.

ACT to present Camelot

Journey to the land of enchantment of Camelot with the cast and crew of ACT and friends May 13 and 15 at the John B. Boy Auditorium.

Friday night's dinner theatre will take place in a Medieval setting (banners, shields, animal heads and more to decorate the walls while candles and greenery adorn the tables). Food will be served by friends and neighbors dressed in Old World costumes. The fare will be finger foods in the absence of forks. Roasted chicken and ribs, corn on the cob, bread, cheese, fresh vegetables and dessert will compose the menu.

For information or reservations for the Old World experience, please call Jenny Miller at 983-7174.

Cheers... Reading brings rewards and pizza to the students at Canal Point Elementary.

Canal Point students enjoy pizza party

Students at Kathryn E. Cunningham/Canal Point Elementary School agree that reading has real rewards - Pizza Rewards! First, third and fourth grade students in Pam Campbell's reading classes have participated in Pizza Hut's BOOK-IT program which encourages pleasure reading in grades kindergarten through sixth.

For the past five months each student read five books per month. Because 100 percent of the students met their goals, Pizza Hut provided a pizza party for the children.

Everyone agreed the experience certainly beat lunch in the cafeteria and can't wait to get toward next year's party. After all, good food and good books go hand-in-hand.

Participating students were Roderick Wilkerson, Zane Mangillo, Arnetta Brown, Osricka Jones, Santora Smith, Jeffrey Woodham, Tania Anderson, Natalia Cardenas, Alecia Harrelle, Loretta Rodriguez and Juanita

C.H.O.I.C.E. honor students receive heartening talk from Atty. Washington

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

"Success is free for the taking," said Belle Glade Attorney Mame Washington at the Pahokee School of Choice Honor Roll Breakfast April 21. As the honor students and their parents listened intently, Attorney Washington delivered a message that contained information that could be taken outside of the cafeteria and shared with friends, family and others in the community.

Ms. Washington told those in attendance lately there has been some unfortunate circumstances in Pahokee but the honor breakfast is one of the good things that is happening in the community.

At the breakfast at the School of CHOICE (Creating Human Opportunity for Individually Chosen Education), Ms. Washington said "everyone has a choice or whether to fail or succeed."

Ms. Washington told the students, "there is nothing wrong with failure. What's wrong is when you don't learn from failure." She said when you fail you should keep trying, that's when doors open for you. The attorney told the crowd of the unfortunate situations she faced in life. She spoke of her being a teenage mother at the age of 13 and being married at the age of 14, to the numerous amount of times it took her to take the bar exam before she finally passed it. Ms. Washington tried to reiterate to the students the need to continue to strive and therefore become successful.

According to Ms. Washington, as she spoke openly to the students, "Conduct is more important than what you say." She said people make their first impression on someone by the way that person acts and carries themselves.

Pertaining to doing what you can become successful, Ms. Washington spoke sternly and told the students, "Invest in yourself now and you'll gain your rewards." She told the students to continue their education now.

Ms. Washington is a graduate of Glades Central Community High School, Palm Beach Community College, University of Florida and many other learning institutions. She is a partner with the Montgomery and Washington Law Firm.

Xi Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi chose Karen McCarthy and Leigh Woodham as Girls of the Year.
